

HAIG'S FORCES CROSS CANAL DU NORD ON WHOLE FRONT; FIRST NIGHT OF THE RED CROSS FAIR REALIZES $1,347

IN SPITE OF UNFAVORABLE WEATHER THE FIRST NIGHT IS A COMPLETE SUCCESS

Thousands Are on Streets and Spend Money Freely
Everywhere.

MANY BANDS ARE OUT

Music Never Lacks for a Moment;
Automobiles Not Allowed in Main Streets After 6 O'Clock; Bigger Crowds Are Expected For Tonight.

Although weather conditions were most unfavorable Connellsville's big Red Cross street fair opened last night with thousands of persons in attendance and a disposition among the greater part of the people to spend freely. All sorts of novelties and other articles were sold and the local talent shows along the midway came in for their share of patronage.

From 7 o'clock until 11, the streets were thronged and bands galore were out to help make the affair a success. There was no lack of music during the entire evening. The Connellsville Military band, the Scottsboro Grand Army band, the Lenoirville band, the Baltimore & Ohio band, the Italian band were all on hand. The music makers marched through the streets continuously and played in front of the various shows.

The total amount of money realized last night was reported by the finance committee as $1,347.23. Some booths had returned running over $100, one reporting $281.

The Red Cross committee appreciates the kindness of County Fuel Administrator John W. Dabner in allowing all lights to be on last night—lightless night.

No traffic was allowed to pass through Pittsburgh street from Peach street to Fairview avenue or on Crawford avenue from the bridge to Pittsburgh street after 6 o'clock, and the entire district was devoted to the fair.

In spite of the heavy rain of the afternoon, the women in charge of the different booths worked hard and had them decorated for the opening at 7 o'clock. The program that had been arranged for the grand opening at 8:30 o'clock, when an address would have been made at Brimstone Corner, followed by a parade was called off.

A corps of barkers, dressed in bright red uniforms got the crowds into the shows which came in for much favorable comment. The "Girls of the Allied Nations," "Beautiful Kaitie," and "Jim Dore's Horse Show" and the athletic show all attracted good crowds. The Dawson Musical Company did not open last night. Most of the booths were open, although some were vacant on account of the rain. These will be operating tonight. Some booths that were open were completely sold out and it will be necessary to have completely new stocks on hand tonight.

Girls in Red Cross uniforms filled the streets, selling candy. "Uncle Sammie" and other novelties.

One feature is the presence of the famed ring warrior Patsy Iramigan, the featherweight boxer of Pittsburgh. Patsy is a member of the company of boxers appearing at the athletic show. For years Pat has been a prominent figure in the pugilistic world and is the hero of 500 ring battles, having fought all of the topnotchers in his day, such as Abe Attell, Johnny Kilbane, George Chaney, and others large and small.

He is now an instructor in the training camp of the hustling fight manager, Jimmie Dime, who handles the affairs of the boxers, George Chip, Joe Chip, Tom McMahon, Johnny Picca and several others.

Owing to the wet condition of the library lawn last night, it was necessary to postpone the initial performance of the war pageant, "Democracy Triumphs." All is in readiness, however, and this evening at 9:30 sharp the procession will begin. Every member of the cast must report promptly at 8 o'clock in the Red Cross work room. Every member of the chorus must report at 9 o'clock on the library lawn.

In the ticket sale contest, "Major" Ada Mae Sheetz of the "Army" reports a score of 2,419, while "Admiral" Grace Biesel of the "Navy" reports a score of 2,234. This attraction alone is expected to net at least $1,000.

The baby show in the Macabee building, South Pittsburgh street, attracted one of the biggest crowds of the night. The show is in charge of Mrs. H. C. Hays, who is untiringly working towards its success. A pretty feature of the decorations is a large "colonial porch," which takes up the greater part of one side of the hall. The pillars are white and the interior has been comfortably fitted up.

LETTER FROM JOHN R. BROWN TELLS HOW "MILT" BISHOP DIED

Company D Sergeant Was Reporting
at Headquarters When Shell Struck.

The first word as to how Sergeant Milton Bishop and Francis Erb of Company D, 119th Regiment, met their deaths reached here this morning in a letter written by Candidate John R. Brown of Fifth Company, A. C. S. A. P. O. 714. Both soldiers, two majors and a captain were killed by a shell, which hit squarely, according to Candidate Brown's letter. In the letter, written to Mrs. Brown, he says:

"I received the most severe shock of all Friday. I met Glenn Witt, who is sergeant in Company D and he told me 'Bish' how he was killed, and all. I think I cried. I will never get over it and I now can't realize it. I have asked Witt over a dozen times to try and have him say it was not true but I can only set my mind to the fact. Witt said that all the company mourned for 'Bish' and I don't doubt it. He would always be the same old boy, and if the Lord gives me a chance I will surely get a few for him.

"He was killed while he was reporting to battalion headquarters. The shell hit squarely. It also killed two majors, one captain and boy from home by name of Erb. With a little trouble I have located his grave on the map and know the exact spot where he is. It is quite a distance from me now but I will surely visit him before I do another thing, that is when I have a couple of weeks in which I expect to get when I finish school. You know how I loved 'Bish' dear old boy. Well, he died fighting and that fits in with him, because I knew 'Bish' would never be yellow. After I finish my course I do not know where I will be sent but I will be assigned to replacement troops or used as an instructor. I hope it is the former. I feel more like warring now than ever before. The front looks very hopeful and we are certainly mopping up. Hope it continues. I would like to be helping. I know this—from now on I will never take a prisoner. I am leaving off finely here and hope to pull through O. K. The study is harder than fighting, it seems to me. They are very strict. Hope the months will be short. I don't feel right here now. Tell Mrs. Dilworth that 'Gummy' is safe and plugging along."

"BABY BOYS OF 18" NOT TOO YOUNG TO BECOME SOLDIERS

Says Confederate Veteran Who Went Into Service
When Only 14.

TEMPERANCE QUESTION

Occupies Methodist Protestant Conference Yesterday; Dr. Sam Small Principal Speaker; Patriotic Rally and Service Flag Dedication Tonight

The temperance question occupied the attention of the Methodist Protestant conference at Dunbar yesterday afternoon and evening. At the evening session, with Rev. C. J. Swift, Superintendent of the Pennsylvania Anti-Saloon League presiding, Dr. Sam Small of Georgia was the principal speaker, occupying an hour and one-half in the delivery of his address. This related to his experience as a soldier in the Confederate army and also in the Spanish-American war, and to a review of the temperance issue, and concluded with the prediction that the United States will be a saloonless nation by 1920, never again to permit their re-establishment.

Dr. Small entered the Confederate army when but fourteen years of age. Before he became 15 he surrendered to the Union forces. Later when the Spanish war broke out Dr. Small presented himself for service under the Stars and Stripes and fought side by side with the boys of the North in that war. He received his commission directly from the hands of President McKinley, he told the conference. He wears a service pin of the war showing that three sons are in the service of the United States in France.

"It makes me sick when I think that the Confederacy sent 25,000 boys of fifteen years of age and younger into the war of the Rebellion, to hear some of the men and women belaboring around about their baby boys of 18 years," said the speaker in regard to making 18 years the lower limit of the draft age.

During the day the conference was addressed by many notable men of the Methodist Protestant denomination. Dr. Charles S. Johnson of Columbus, one of the leaders of the Forward Movement commission of the church, was one of the principal speakers of the day and gave a very interesting resume of the work that the movement is doing for the cause of missions.

The great educational program of the denomination was presented to the members of the conference by Dr. A. G. Dixon of Baltimore who asked that the conference raise its pro rata share of the million dollar fund for education and missions.

Rev. J. Wilson Brown of the Second church, Pittsburgh, was granted his letter of standing and permitted to leave the conference. It is reported that the Pittsburgh pastor intends to take up a pastorate in the Baptist denomination. Other vacancies due to war condition threaten the conference and it is feared that many charges will be left unoccupied.

Following the meeting of the stationing committee it was rumored new pastors will be sent this year to Kittanning, First church, Uniontown, Beaver Falls, Second, Pittsburgh, Fairchance circuit, Bakerstown and Clagran Falls, Ohio.

Dr. A. E. Fletcher, pastor of the South Side church, Pittsburgh, presented the report of the Federated Council of Churches of Pittsburgh. Dr. Fletcher is the conference representative in this body. It is stated that the principal reforms of this year accomplished by the federation is the elimination of Sunday baseball and the establishment of morals court in Allegheny county.

The meeting of the Preachers' Aid society is occupying a large share of attention today.

CLAIMS $78,964

For Coal Wrongly Mined Under a Tract in German Township.

Suit was entered yesterday by Samuel D. Newcomer of German township against the South Fayette Coke Company to recover damages in the sum of $78,964.66, or treble the value of the coal removed from the tract of coal originally consisting of 45 acres, purchased by Newcomer in 1895. Part of the tract was sold to Charles H. Foote. Later the surface of the remainder was sold to William H. Riffe, but the coal under that portion was reserved. This Newcomer alleges the defendant company "willfully, wrongfully and with force of arms" entered upon and removed coal to the value of $26,321.55, hence he is entitled to treble damages, amounting to $78,964.66.

WALTER HELTMARK, FIRST FAYETTE DRAFTEE KILLED.

Walter Helmark, a member of Company 1, 320th Infantry, who was wounded in action and died on August 15, was the first drafted soldier from Fayette county to give up his life in the cause of democracy. He was a son of John Helmark of Trostler.

CHARLES LONG OF CO. E LOSES LEG WHILE IN ACTION

Right Limb Suffers Compound
Fracture, Amputation Necessitated.

HE IS IN BASE HOSPITAL

Wounded Soldier Writes Cheerful
Letter to Mother and Tells Her Not to Worry; Is a Son of W. F. Long,
a Well Known West Penn. Man.

Charles F. Long, a member of Company E, 119th Regiment, has written to his mother, Mrs. W. F. Long, that he has had his right leg amputated, being wounded by a German shell, and a gas infection setting in. The soldier is a son of W. F. Long, superintendent of the West Penn. Railways company in Uniontown.

In a letter to his mother he says in part:

"This letter is being written by a friend as I am unable to write myself at this time. I was in a base hospital, one of the largest. I had a compound fracture of the right leg and a gas infection setting in, necessitating amputation, but perhaps I am lucky at that. I can get an artificial leg whereas I could not get a new one for goodness sake mother, don't worry, as I am coming out on my feet."

"At the time I was wounded I was in a large stone house. Two shells exploded covering us with stones and plaster. 'Duffy' escaped but several others were killed and wounded."

The letter was written on August 11. In a later letter, written on August 20 he says the wounded leg is getting along nicely and that he does not suffer much pain. He says two men from his company are at the same hospital suffering from gas. He names his hospital as Base Hospital No. 2.

BONNIWELL COMES BACK

At Palmer Alleging That He Suffers
From "Delusional Insanity."

Judge Eugene C. Bonniwell, nominated by the Democrats of Pennsylvania as candidate for governor because, as A. Mitchell Palmer, National committeeman said, "The Democratic party is wet," has issued a vigorous denial of the charges made against him.

"My nomination," says Bonniwell, "is due to the votes of 88,000 self-respecting Democrats. I have repudiated the arrogant bossism of Palmer and his defeat has probably brought on an attack of delusional insanity."

Becomes Railroad Detective.

Fred B. DeRoache of South Connellsville, a Spanish-American war veteran, has secured a position with the Pittsburgh & Lake Erie railroad as a detective. He expects to be assigned to the Pittsburgh district soon.

Weather Forecast

HEAVY LOSSES IN CO. D REPORTED BY SERGEANT FULLER

Uniontown Member of Local Command Says 143 Remain Out of 250.

ARE STILL GOING FORWARD

Has Been on the Move Ever Since July 4, He Writes, and Are Still Giving the Germans Hell; Tells of His Brother George Being Wounded.

According to a letter received in Uniontown today from Sergeant Smith Fuller of that city and a member of Company D, 119th Regiment, that command has suffered severe losses in the battle on the western front during July and August. In the letter, which is written to J. W. Lee, proprietor of the McMillan hotel, he says that out of 250 men in the company when the company went on active service about July 4, there are only 143 left.

He does not mention the names of any boys who had been lost in the fight but speaks of a brother, George Fuller, of the same command being wounded. The letter follows:

"We have been on the go ever since July 4 and are still going forward. George Fuller was hurt but not very bad. I received a letter from him yesterday and he said he was getting along O. K."

"We started with 250 men and now have only 143. Most of the Uniontown boys are still with us and giving the Hun hell. Give my best to all." The Fuller boys are sons of Dr. John M. Fuller of Fayette street.

No casualties which have been received here have indicated any heavy loss in the local command. Undoubtedly many of the men missing from the ranks are in hospitals on account of wounds. It has been reported that in the early part of the battle Company D was sheltered by heavy artillery. Letters received here today from local boys do not mention heavy losses.

LIEUTENANT MCCARTNEY

AT EMBARKATION CAMP.

Lieutenant Harold G. McCartney of the aviation corps is at an embarkation camp and expects to leave soon for duty overseas. Mrs. McCartney, who before her marriage on August 27, was Mrs. Mary C. Crawford of Washington, D. C., will remain with her husband until he leaves for France. She will then return to her home to reside with her mother until after the war. Lieutenant McCartney is a son of Mrs. George W. McCartney of East Fairview avenue and was home on a brief furlough about two weeks ago.

LATROBE SOLDIER

IS IN HOSPITAL.

Mrs. Oliver McKelvey of Latrobe has received a letter from her son, J. Cyril McKelvey of Company M, 119th Infantry, stating that he was in a hospital in France, recovering from gas injuries. He writes that he is much better but is still very nervous.

HOREWITZ TO ENTER

SCHOOL AT CAMP LEE.

Tradore L. Horewitz, who has been at the Carnegie training camp since July 1, was one of 95 civilians from Pennsylvania selected to enter the Central Lane Training school at Camp Lee, Petersburg, Va., and will leave for Petersburg on Sunday.

FOSTER CRITCHFIELD HOME

ON FURLOUGH.

Poster Critchfield, attached to the Medical Supply company, stationed at Newport News, Va., arrived home yesterday on a furlough. He will return to camp on Sunday.

SMITHFIELD BOY

WOUNDED IN FRANCE.

Rev. and Mrs. Ralph Bell of Smithfield, formerly of Vanderhill, received word yesterday that their son, Ralph Bell, Jr., had been wounded on August 6 and was in a base hospital in France.

Bell left Smithfield last April for Canada, where he joined his command after enlisting last winter. Mr. and Mrs. Bell received a card from their son dated on August 1, stating that he had been in the front line trenches and expected to be relieved in a few days.

LEWIS SOLDIER

MISSING IN ACTION.

Edward M. O'Connor, 22 years old, of Lewis, was reported missing in action August 8, word to this effect being received yesterday afternoon in a telegram from the War Department to Mr. and Mrs. John O'Connor, parents of the young soldier. O'Connor is a member of Company H, 112th Infantry, and left for Camp Lee with a contingent of draftees the first part of March.

BRITISH TROOPS TAKE NEUVE CHAPELLE AND BUSSY; FRENCH ADVANCE

Between the Somme and the Oise the Gauls are Within Three Miles of Chauny; on North Bank of the Ailette the Polius Secure a Good Hold Between That River and the Oise.

AMERICANS CONTINUE THEIR ADVANCE ON VESLE

LONDON, Sept. 6.—1 P. M.—British troops today captured Neuve Chapelle and Bussy.

Field Marshal Haig's forces crossed the Canal du Nord on the whole front except from Hevrincourt, north of the Scarpe. Between the Somme and the Oise French troops have captured Blockhals, known as the Outercourt Massis, which is within three miles of Chauny.

The French have secured a good hold on the northern banks of the Ailette and on the terrain between that river and the Oise. They are approaching, if they are not actually on the Hindenburg line at St. Gobain Massis.

On the Flanders front the British are established in portions of the old German front line east of Neuve Chapelle and in the old British line in the Fauquissart sector.

The British also have advanced northwest of Armentieres. North of Perrone British forces are in possession of the town of Bussy and are in the immediate vicinity of Templeux-la-fosse, Murlu and Equancourt.

Southeast of Perrone the British have reached Athies and Mons-en-Chaussee. They have captured the village of Doinz.

REGISTRATION OF LOCAL VOTERS IS EXTREMELY LIGHT

Only a Total of 274 For Entire Seven Wards of the City Is Reported.

The first registration day for voters in Connellsville was very light in most of the wards of the city, and a total of 274 is reported for the entire day by the various registrars. Many voters forgot yesterday was registration day and others passed it up until October 5. A heavier enrollment is expected on Tuesday, the 17th. Unless enrolled, it will be impossible to vote in the November elections all previous enrollments now being void.

Of the 274 voters enrolled the two West Side wards had 147 leaving 127 distributed through the remaining five wards. The Sixth ward was highest with 79 and the nearest to that number was in the Fourth ward with 42. The Seventh ward on the West Side and the First ward both reported 35 registrants and the Fifth ward reported 28. The Third has 27 men on the books and the Second was lowest with 22.

The registration was extremely light, and registrars had little to do. There was very little registration when the polls opened last night between 7 and 10 o'clock, most of the voters preferring to go to the Red Cross street fair and wait for the next enrolling day.

HONOR ROLL COMMITTEE

Of Which Dr. Burgess is Head. Includes Capt. Dunn and Clerk Bixler.

Dr. E. B. Burgess, Captain Harry Dunn and City Clerk A. O. Bixler will comprise the committee that will have charge of the very important task of compiling Connellsville's Honor Roll. Dr. Burgess was recently appointed by the Fayette county branch of the Council of National Defense and Committee of Public Safety to make a compilation of the names of all Connellsville boys who have entered the military and naval service. He has accepted the appointment and has selected Captain Dunn and City Clerk Bixler to assist him in the task which will be no small one. As at present planned information will be collected which, when completed, will form a complete military history of every boy who has gone or will yet go into the service.

An Honor Roll, containing these names, will be erected at some public point in the city, to be replaced when the war is over, with a permanent record reciting briefly the service of every Connellsville son in the Great War.

DRY ZONES

About Nine Traced But Vote on "All-Dry" Is Again Deferred.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 6.—Although the Senate yesterday adopted a resolution authorizing the President to establish dry zones around coal mines, ship yards, munition and other war plants, it again failed to reach a final vote on the emergency agricultural appropriation bill, which is under consideration for national prohibition from July 1, 1919, until the nation's huge army is mustered out after the war.

ADMITTED TO HOSPITAL.

Philip Bloom, eight years old, of Adelaide, while at play yesterday, fell and suffered a fracture of the leg. He was admitted to the Cottage State Hospital for treatment.

Perry School Opens Monday.

The Perry township schools will open next Monday.

SOCIAL and PERSONAL

WEATHER DOES NOT SPOIL BIG RED CROSS STREET FAIR

For the entertainment of the mothers and their babies, large floral baskets and ferns are used in decorating. Up until today 15 babies had been registered and the amount of money on hand is $99.77. A delightful program was rendered throughout the evening. Mrs. Hays hopes to realize several hundred dollars from this attraction.

All tickets for the pig, flour and sugar, which are being sold by the congregation of the Immaculate Conception church are requested to be turned in to the committee Saturday night at 9 o'clock at Woolworth's store. All entrants in the popularity contest are also asked to meet at that hour and night at the same place.

A booth operated by members of the Mount Braddock auxiliary to the local Red Cross met with wonderful success, virtually all of the articles being disposed of shortly after 10 o'clock. A fresh supply will be on hand for tonight.

Being unable to complete the booth for last night the musical show to be given by well known talent of Dawson, was not open, but will be ready for tonight at which time a delightful program will be rendered by the Rush sisters, the Evans twins, Betty Crawford, Alverda Snyder, Alida and Grace Schuler, the Baum twins and Alpha French. Tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock Miss Helen Belle Rush will sing "The Story Book Ball," which will be of special interest to the children. The "fake" orchestra will also be a big attraction.

Uncle Sam's booth, in charge of Mrs. Harry Jennings and Mrs. John Davis, stationed almost opposite Hepler's drug store, attracted a large crowd and readily disposed of its vegetables and other articles on sale. A fresh supply of vegetables will be received every day.

The booth in charge of the Immaculate Conception church, also realized a big sum, and tonight more attractions will be added.

Booths conducted by the Christian, First Baptist, First Methodist Episcopal, First Presbyterian, United Presbyterian and Trinity Lutheran churches and the Charleston Comforts Branch of the Navy League, also report fine success.

Following are the financial reports of the different shows and booths:

ELMER CAMPER WRITES INTERESTING LETTER FROM BASE HOSPITAL

Tells His Mother He is Being Cared For by a Pittsburgh Hospital Unit.

Tuesday, August 6.

"Dear Mother:
I received your letter some few days ago. Was more than glad to hear from you. Since receiving your letter I have been taken to a base hospital for a couple of slight gunshot wounds. They do not amount to very much for I believe I could walk if they would let me get out of bed. It is a very nice rest and a dandy hospital. I cannot see how the nurses can have so much patience around so many soldier patients. I know just about what I would be tempted to do to some of them if they were in my charge.

"One guy on the other side of the room from me has to have his leg moved, or a drink of water, or a cigarette, but anyhow, it is something every time anyone passes him. He is about the nearest to being a confirmed pest that I have ever seen.
"One good thing. This hospital where I am at is the Pittsburgh unit. You can imagine how surprised I was when we got here. We came in the latest equipped hospital train. The coaches from the outside resemble the Pullman car that we have back in the States, and are something swell to ride in.
"In each car there is room for 36 patients and all cots are arranged on either side of the car. They are three high and 18 of them to each end of the car. There is a nurse and two soldier orderlies to each car.
"The surprise that I had started to tell you about was the meeting of two Pittsburgh young men who were assisting in the unloading of the patients. After that I had numerous visitors who asked me all about Pittsburgh and the old home town. I guess I am the only 110th man they have seen since coming over.

"It is just like being on a vacation here for the Red Cross nurses cannot do too much for you. I had almost forgotten that there was still so much good stuff to eat left in the world. I have just finished a great big dinner and you know what an appetite I used to have. I think if anything, it has increased since coming over here. We had been sleeping outdoors for so long that a bed seemed like an added luxury to life.
"The only thing that worries me is how long I will have to stay here. I am still around here very long. I will have to start my army career over again, for I had become hardened to the outdoor living, and I do not think there is anything in the world to equal it.
"The boys around here have been telling me of the swell town that is just over the hills from here. Hence I can soon get a chance to go down to it.

"As ever, your loving son,
"ELMER."

DRAFT BOARDS MUST RUSH WORK TO HAVE MEN IN ARMY OCT. 31

Protest Marshal General Crowder Will Permit No Time to Be Wasted.

By Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, Sept. 6.—Protest Marshal General Crowder said yesterday that the national selective service machinery must speed up operations immediately to make it possible to get men from the new 18 to 45 registration on the way to Army contingents before the end of October.

Outlining changes in methods adopted to that end, General Crowder said questionnaires would go out to registrants before the drawing had been conducted to determine their order of call, and that local boards would be urged to commence classification immediately.

General Crowder hopes to have the registration completed within 10 days or two weeks and the reports in so that the lottery may be held by October 2. General Crowder is confident that he will be able to register and classify 13,000,000 men by January 1, admittedly an astounding undertaking.

General Crowder has submitted a recommendation to President Wilson as to the groups to be designated and the order of their call. The President is expected to announce these groups this week. This action is necessary because some of these registrants will have to be called in October, probably by the 15th of the month. The last group to be classified will probably be men between 40 and 45 inclusive.

Owing to the fact that men between the ages of 40 and 45 are most seriously involved in agriculture and important industrial pursuits, the call is expected to be withheld until the last. Because men between the ages of 18 and 21 can be most rapidly classified, their classification is expected first, those between 20 and 45 being subject to first call, and those of 18 years of age held up temporarily.

At the end of August, 2,600,442 men had been inducted into service. By October 1, the present available class one material will have been exhausted or practically so. For that reason shortcuts are being ordered in all the classification measures taken in the first summer.

Honest Advertising

THIS is a topic we all hear now-a-days because so many people are inclined to exaggerate. Yet has any physician told you that we claimed unreasonable remedial properties for Fletcher's Castoria? Just ask them. We won't answer it ourselves, we know what the answer will be. That it has all the virtues to-day that was claimed for it in its early days is to be found in its increased use, the recommendation by prominent physicians, and our assurance that its standard will be maintained.

Imitations are to be found in some stores and only because of the Castoria that Mr. Fletcher created. But it is not the genuine Castoria that Mr. Fletcher honestly advertised, honestly placed before the public, and from which he honestly expects to receive his reward.

Genuine Castoria always bears the signature of Chas. H. Fletcher

WORK, FIGHT OR PAY THE PENALTY.

No little misunderstanding prevails
throughout the country over the present status of the work or fight re quirement of the select service law.
The confusion arises from the elimi nation by the conference committee of Congress of the amendment to the man power bill proposed by the Sen ate. This amendment consisted in ad ding to the bill as it came from the House a provision to the effect that registrants must engage in produc tive occupation or go into the army.
When the amended bill was before the conference committee the Sen ator General Crozier requested that the Senate amendment be stricken out explaining that the ex isting draft law provided all the means and conferred all the authority necessary to the enforcement of the work or fight rule. This suggestion was acted upon and the measure was reported for final passage practically in the form it had been pre pared by the Military Affairs Committee of the House and as approved by President
Wilson and Secretary of War Baker
Inasmuch as the new law is in ef fect no more than extending the draft age from 18 to 21 both in the case of males and females, the law is not a new law but a amend ment to the existing law.

As a result the work or fight re quirement will now apply to all men between the ages of 18 to 21 instead of only those who are 21 to 31.
While the law is not a new law, it will be rigidly enforced. Regis trants are warned that the law will be no lax administration of the law but that every man, young or old with out exception must obtain employ ment defined by the draft regulations as essential or at once go into the army.

It behooves all those whose ages are within the limits fixed by the new law to familiarize themselves with the law of occupation as set out for men 21 to 31 which will become essential for those 18 to 21 and begin at once to make arrangements accordingly.
The machinery for the operation of the draft and the apprehension and punishment of those who violate the law and regulations is complete running order. There is a determina tion by those in authority that none shall escape the penalties. The sys tem by which information concern ing slackers is obtained and their whereabouts ascertained has been amplified to include the "nearest ham let or village as well as the larger centers of population. Draft dodgers may feel a certain security from de fection for a time, but eventually they will be caught.

Prudence and common sense would therefore dictate that no man within the new draft ages fail to register and having registered, neglect to obtain essential employment at the earliest possible day if not already so employ

Instructions to Registrants

The Provost Marshal General has made the following announcement for the benefit of those men between the ages of 18 and 45 who may be absent
from the jurisdiction of their local draft boards on September 12, the date fixed for registration.

All men required to register un der the new man power law who ex pect to be absent on Registration Day
from the jurisdiction of their local board should bear these facts in mind.

The obligation rests on you and you alone to see that your registra tion card, properly made out in the hands of your local board on or be fore Registration Day.

It is for your convenience how ever and to obviate the necessity of your going home to register that the following arrangements have been provided by this office for the registra tion of absentees.

(a) There is a supply of registra tion blanks at the office of every local board in the United States.

(b) A clerk of any board or a member thereof authorized to re cord the names of persons absent
from the jurisdiction of their respec tive local boards and to certify to their registration card.

(c) If an application by you your card will be made out by a clerk or member of the board to which you apply turned over to you and BY YOU it must be mailed in time to reach the local board having juris diction of the area within which you permanently reside by the day set for registration.

(d) Therefore as soon as prac ticable go to the office of a local board and have your registration card filled and certified as prescribed by the regulations (Section 17),
then mail the same to the local board having jurisdiction of the area within which you permanently reside.

If you do not know the designa tion and address of the local board address the card to the mayor in case your home is in a city of 30,000 population or over to the clerk of your county parish or similar unit in case your home is not in a city of 31,000 population or over to the clerk of the county to which your county pertains for judicial purposes in case it has no administrative or organization or to the clerk of your township in case the area of your state or territory is subdivided into divisions for the purpose of the ad ministration of the selective service law.

Write also on the envelope which you have so addressed—

Registration card of _____
St. and No. or R. F. D. No. _____
City, town or post office _____

The mayor, county clerk or town ship clerk as the case may be will forward the card to the proper local board.

Enclose a self addressed stamped envelope with your registration card
for your Registration Certificate.

Persons not exempted from registra tion by the President's proclamation and absent from their home at training camps and persons at schools, colleges and other similar institutions will be treated as absen tees and should register as prescribed for absentees.

However, at their convenience be local board having jurisdiction of the area within which any such in stitution is situated is authorized to designate a competent person to cer tify to the registration cards of non residents in such institution (but not to furnish registration certificates or to register such persons) and to fur nish a supply of cards to do so. It must be borne in mind that a sufficient length of time before the date set by the President for registra tion to enable such persons to mail
the cards to the local boards hav ing jurisdiction over the area in which they permanently reside. Fail ure to do this may cause serious com plications for such persons.

Liberty Loan Primer

Liberty Bonds at a Premium.

Back of the announcement the other day that Liberty Bonds of the first issue, bearing three and a half per cent interest had sold on the New York stock exchange at $10.00 is a most interesting and reassuring lesson.

For a whole lot of people through out the country have been looking doubtfully at their bonds of late.
They have been questioning their value and their own wisdom in having in vested in them. They've doubted a rising price.

If it has taken the men of the country to buy the first issue of Liberty Bonds, it is not surprising that the men of today who ap preciate the finer points of finan cing are the fellows who are buy ing this new issue in such quan tities that they are forcing the price considerably above par.

And why is this?

Simply because there can never be any one tax levied against the earnings received from this particular bond issue. They are wholly tax free.
So the man who has a few hundred thousand dollars lying idle with no promising investment in sight is put ting them into these bonds knowing he is always sure of three and a half per cent and no taxes to pay upon the returns.

And for the average fellow you and I for instance, the $10.00 is just as good. Better in fact for they too are tax free up to $5,000 which is more than we probably will ever be able to invest in them and we earn nearly one per cent a year more.

If the money kings of the ear hold Liberty Bonds in such high esteem as investments, there isn't much reason for you and I worrying about their safety.

There's no occasion for worrying anyway. For back of these bonds lies the whole power of the government to tax to the utmost every dollar's worth of property in the land. As long as there is a United States those bonds will be good.

And when the United States ends
your money will be not a nothing anyway.

So put aside any qualms you may have been entertaining.

These Liberty Bonds are safe to the nth degree.

FARMERS AND GARDENERS

If you want a market for your products take them direct to our store. We will buy all sorts of vegetables and fruits. If you have apples, peaches, plums, quinces or any other kinds of fruits we want them. Also in the market for po tatoes and all kinds of late vegetables, hay, corn,
and other sorts of grain. We want your butter, eggs, milk—there is no better market in Western Pennsylvania than we offer you at our plants
cash or merchandise convenient to our home.
That's an inducement isn't it? There is at the present time a rush for ton tons people want them for canning. There is a big demand for roasting ears, lima beans, and other late vegeta bles. We want peaches for canning plums and apples for preserving and if you haven't any of these fruits or vegetables for sale perhaps you are figuring on raising crops for your own needs. We can turn to you Mason jars, tin cans and other equipment for canning them up. A Union Supply Company store is a good place now to visit if you want to sell goods or if you want to buy goods. They are attractive for both purposes.

Special to The Courier.
MT. PLEASANT, Sept. 6.—A man who gave his name as O'Donnell, accompanied by another man, a partner, came to Mt. Pleasant yesterday and wished to be allowed to show a two reel picture at the Cox theatre in the east end. At the request of Burgess Saul P. Stevens, proprietor of the house, James Cox ran the picture for him. The photoplay advertised Gary, Indiana, and told of the advantages of living there. Since taking labor from one state to the other is a violation of the Federal law, these men, with their picture were ordered out of town immediately and the film was not allowed to be shown.

Twenty Draftees Leave.
The following draftees left yesterday over a special Baltimore and Ohio train for Camp Greenleaf, Ga., where they will go into training. Thirty-one had been called by the local board and with the exception of the men who leave today for Camp Sherman, Class 1 is exhausted and so they were unable to ship but twenty. The men are:

POWERFUL PILE REMEDY DISCOVERED

Has Never Failed to End Most Obstinate Cases of Piles in Few Days.
For years it has been proved that so-called external remedies applied to or inserted in the rectum cannot cure piles, and at the best can only give temporary relief. Surgical operations also do not remove this cause, but simply the formation.

This wonderful prescription, known as Miro Pile Remedy, is so efficient in the treatment of piles, that even chronic cases of from 20 to 30 years standing with profuse bleeding have been completely cured in from three to ten days. This is not a few dozes of a carefully balanced prescription and the most persistent case of piles is absorbed, never to return.

Just read what Henry J. Stone of the Lorain, Ohio, Fire Department says:

"I had bleeding and protruding piles for three years and tried all kinds of remedies without result, but was thoroughly cured after taking one bottle of Miro."

Frank J. Phillips of Bird Island,
Minnesota, says:

"I used half a bottle of Miro. It worked like a charm. I no longer suffer with bleeding and protruding piles. I never regretted the money for such blessing as I am now enjoying. I would have used the whole bottle, but it was not necessary."

All pharmacists dispense Miro or can get it for you on short notice.
Surely its worth the little trouble to obtain it to be rid of piles forever.

IMPORTANT: What is known as itching piles are not piles in the true sense of the word, although this condition may accompany a true case of piles. For this condition Miro Pile Ointment has been prepared as in such cases it is not necessary to take the internal prescription.—Adv.

THE PARAMOUNT

"ALL WOMAN"—In which the glad-dest and the saddest face on the screen, which is the inimitable Mae Marsh, comes today to delight the admirers of the Goldwyn star. In a role replete with great dramatic opportunities in which the winsome charm of the film star is afforded wide scope, Miss Marsh gives the screen world a sensation. The originality of the play, its gripping human quality and its steady, certain development up to the moment of the powerful climax is leaving nothing to be desired. "All Woman" is not just a photodrama, but a compelling example of what Goldwyn is doing to dignify and strengthen the literature of the silent drama.
As the working girl who inherits neither money or vast estates, but a mountain hotel, Miss Marsh is said to exhibit the most appealing phase of her undisputed talents. When she discovers that it is not a luxurious hostelry of which she has become the owner, but a resort of evil reparation the star portrays all the pangs of girlish disillusionment. From that moment until the last scene in the play the story of "All Woman" gains in steady cumulative power until the chance is given the girl from the city to reach a moment of glorious sacrifice for the man she loves. As her leading man Miss Marsh has Jerre Anstin, long prominent in leads on the speaking stage. Before casting his lot with screen folk, Anstin was widely known for his work in many Broadway stage productions. Children take worth while roles in the picture. A two reel selected comedy is also being presented.

THE ORPHEUM.

"LA TOSCA"—One of the most popular of all operas, Sardou's "La Toe-ca" is Pauline Frederick's latest Paramount photoplay showing today and tomorrow. The story of the young singer who avenges her lover's torture and the insults to herself by stabbing old Baron Scarpia, chief of police and then, finding that her lover has actually been shot in spite of a promise to the contrary, leaps to her death from a parapet of the castle of St. Angelo, Rome, is too well known to be given at length, but sur-fice to say that an excellent cast and Miss Frederick's superb acting promise excellent entertainment to all.
Monday and Tuesday America's favorite, Mary Pickford, appears in "How Could You Jean?"

MORE STEEL FOR SHIPS AND RAILROADS IS THE TURN DEMAND HAS TAKEN

Efforts to swell tonnage cannot be counted upon to meet the emergency, despite Curtin's aid.

Special to The Weekly Courier.
NEW YORK, Sept. 6.—The American Metal Market and Daily Iron & Steel Report will review the steel and iron trade tomorrow as follows:
An increased demand for steel has been contemporaneous with increased demands for steel for the railroads. Railroad requirements were largely formulated long ago but the meeting of them had to be postponed until the last moment in favor of still more pressing war requirements. In order to get the railroads in good shape for the winter there can be no further delay. For the next few months the War Industries Board makes the tonnage of railroad steel required greater than the ship steel requirements, placing the Army third and the Navy fourth in point of tonnage.

While efforts are being made to swell production this cannot be counted upon to meet the emergency, and efforts are being made to bring about a curtailment of about 25 per cent in the conversion of steel into some finished products, the lines to be affected being not yet fully determined. Outside of rails, structural shapes and plates few lines will probably be able to escape some further curtailment.

Production of steel ingots was approximately the same rate in August as in July, the two months showing less hot weather curtailment than has ever occurred before. For the usual increase in the production rate that occurs in September and October more coke must be provided and the Fuel Administration and Railroad Administration have been working together on this problem. Comparing the four weeks ended August 24 with the four weeks ended May 18 production of by-product coke increased 55,000 tons a week but production of beehive coke decreased 55,000 tons, making a net loss of 40,000 tons a week, which translated into pig iron means nearly 2,000,000 tons a year.

Few steel mills in their distribution get down to B-4 priorities, the jobbers' replacement class, and few pipe mills get clear through the class. Merchant bar distribution to jobbers is similarly restricted. The bar price concession will be limited to agricultural implement makers.

INAUGURATE AIR SERVICE.

Mail Being Carried by Air From New York to Chicago.

NEW YORK, Sept. 6.—Aerial postal service between New York and Chicago was inaugurated yesterday morning when Max Miller, in a large airplane carrying a sack of mail, left Belmont Park at 7:09 o'clock.

In order to carry out the program of making the flights within approximately 10 hours Miller planned a speed at more than 100 miles an hour. Stops will be made at Lock Haven, Pa., Cleveland and Bryan, O. On Saturday a return flight will be made if weather conditions permit.

TELLS HOW TO GET BACK OLD TIME AMBITION

Discoverer instructs druggists everywhere not to take a cent of anyone's money unless Bio-feren doubles energy, vigor and nerve force in two weeks.

7 A DAY FOR 7 DAYS

Any man or woman who finds that they are going backward, are not as strong as they used to be, have lost confidence in their ability to accomplish things, are nervous and run down should take two Bio-feren tablets after each meal and one at bedtime.

Seven a day for seven days. Then take one after each meal until the supply is exhausted. Then your nervousness is not gone, if you do not feel twice as strong and energetic as before, your sluggish disposition has not been changed to a vigorous active one, take back the empty package and your money will be returned without comment.

No matter what excesses, worry, nervousness, too much tobacco or alcohol have weakened your body and wrecked your nerves, any druggist anywhere is authorized to refund your money on request if Bio-feren, the mighty upbuilder of blood, muscle and brain does not do just what is claimed for it.

Note to Physicians: There is no secret about the formula of Bio-feren. It is printed on every package. Here it is:—Lecithin, Calcium Glycero-phosphate, Iron Peptonate, Manganese Peptonate, Ext. Nux. Vomica, Food, Gelatin, Phenolphthalein, Oleoresin Capsicum, Kola.

The Kaiser as I Knew Him For Fourteen Years

ARTHUR N. DAVIS, D. D. S.

(Copyright, 1918, by the McClure Newspaper Syndicate.)

But to return to the Kaiser: The Kaiser's physician joined us, and there were several maids—very superior young women—in attendance upon their royal mistress.

After I had examined the empress and had given my advice, the physician explained to me in a low voice that it was necessary to be cautious and not do much, as he was afraid of her physical condition.

"Anything you do for her majesty," he explained, "would require giving an anesthetic. She is not in condition to stand pain without. The only anesthetic her majesty will take is chloroform. I've administered it to her eleven times and I know just what it means. I'm afraid of her heart at this time. Indeed, just as soon as I can get her into condition I want her to go to Naumburg for the cure."

His alarming words caused quite a flurry among the maids and they crowded around the empress and begged her to have nothing done that day but to endure her suffering a little longer in the hope that relief would come without the necessity of an operation at that time. Their pleadings prevailed upon the patient to postpone the treatment.

This made the Kaiser very angry and he walked up and down the room impatiently.

"Here," he said, "I've got Doctor Davis to come in on a Sunday afternoon, and you want to be in shape for the ball on Tuesday, and now you want have anything done! That's the way with the women!"

Then he turned to me and said: "Well, Davis, I'm sorry to have spoiled your day." And he dashed out of the room, apparently much provoked. I felt I had almost witnessed a family quarrel, but the incident indicated to me that whatever hopes the Kaiser might entertain of one day dominating the world, he had not yet acquired undisputed dominion in his own household.

I did not see the Kaiser again for nearly a year, when she came to my office with a lady-in-waiting.

She arrived in her own car. Its approach was heralded by the imperial "Ta-Ta-Ta" without the concluding "Ta-Ta," which latter was reserved exclusively for the Kaiser, and not even the Kaiser was allowed to use it. The Kaiser's "Ta-Ta-Ta-Ta-Ta" was the subject of much sarcasm among the proletariat, who satirically put it to the words: "Celeris-Scilicet-Ta-Ta," an allusion to the luxuries of the royal table which contrasted most unfavorably with the simple meals to which they were accustomed, while the socialists showed their sentiments very plainly by imitating the words: "Von Unseiner-Geld-Ta-Ta," meaning, "From our money-bags," referring to the royal immunity from taxation which was one of their bitterest pills.

It was not long after I had known the Kaiser before she made clear to me that she possessed a most dictatorial manner, which was quite in contrast with that of the Kaiser, at least when he was in my office.

She objected strenuously to removing her hat—and she usually wore a large one with a veil—but finally yielded when I explained that I could not accomplish my work satisfactorily unless she did. When I placed cotton-rolls in her mouth, she insisted that as she did not like the sensation of the cotton against her lips or tongue, I would have to encase the cotton in rubber.

I told her politely but firmly that my work would be done in my own way, and she finally acquiesced, adding: "Well, if you make such a point of it, doctor, I suppose I shall have to let you have your way."

From that time on the Kaiser came to me more or less regularly. Her lackey usually followed her into the house carrying an artistic lunch box or bag containing sandwiches and bouillon, of which the empress partook in my office. The Princess Victoria Louise, the Kaiser's only daughter, I may mention, usually came similarly provided. No German ever lets anything interfere with his second breakfast.

The empress never spoke on political subjects. She was not particularly brilliant and evidenced some reluctance to air her views on international affairs, as though she were not quite sure of herself. Certainly, she was not nearly as talkative as the Kaiser. When she did unburden herself, it was usually in connection with domestic subjects. It was said in Germany that her only interest in life was represented by the "three K's," Kinder, Kirche and Küche—children, church and kitchen—and there is no question about it that she seldom spoke on other subjects when talking with me.

The Kaiser came to me after the war with America started, but apparently she had felt some hesitation about doing so, because the Kaiser told me shortly before her visit that she intended coming, but pointed out that she had decided to do so only upon his recommendation.

In June, 1917, I received a letter from the Kaiser's physician enclosing one which he said had been written by the Kaiser, but which was both unsigned and undated. It requested me to visit the royal palace at Homburg v. d. E., which, in conjunction with the adjoining town of Kreuznach, was then the location of the great army headquarters.

During the time I was there I could not help observing how extremely timid the servants seemed to be of the Kaiser. One expected to find the utmost servility among the Kaiser's underlings, but I confess it came rather as a shock to me to see the maids walking so timidly and talking so fearfully when in the presence of their white-haired royal mistress. I noted particularly how very gently they knocked at the door before entering and how, after knocking, they immediately placed their heads against the panel that they might catch the Kaiser's low command to enter the first time, and so make it unnecessary for her to repeat it. Their demeanor was particularly noticeable because the Kaiser never seemed to display the slightest impatience or ill-temper when dealing with her servants. Indeed, she seemed to me to act no differently from the humblest housewife in the country.

Before I left Homburg, she asked me whether I was comfortable situated and if everything was all right for me. I told her that everything was quite satisfactory and mentioned particularly how nice it was to have food exactly as we had had it before the war.

"Yes," she replied, "we have everything. I am very careful what I eat. I watch my health very closely."

I remarked, too, how wonderful it must be to have sixty palaces like the Homburg establishment, the beauties of which had deeply impressed me, adding: "His majesty, I understand, has sixty of them, has he not?"

"Not quite sixty," she corrected. "Between fifty and sixty."

Between fifty and sixty palaces! I could not help thinking of the remark the Kaiser once made to me when talking of the manner in which American millionaires made their fortunes: "It breeds socialism!"

When the time came for me to return to Berlin, the Kaiser bade me adieu, but uttered not a word of thanks for my having given up my practice for three days to work exclusively for her.

CHAPTER XII.

The Crown Prince—and Others.

I first saw the crown prince professionally in the spring of 1905, a few months before his marriage. He was then twenty-three years old. He was in the uniform of a German army officer but looked more like a corps student except for the fact that his face was not marked with a scar from dueling, as is usually the case with most members of the German fraternities. He had a habit of placing his hands on his hips and his coat was always flared in at the waist which, with the sporty angle at which he wore his cap, gave him a swagger which was quite foreign to the rest of the officers of the army. He was of slender figure, which was accentuated by his height. He was nearly six feet tall.

He came into my office, I remember, with a copy of Life in his pocket. He took it out and opened it and showed me a cartoon of himself which apparently caused him considerable amusement and which, he said, he intended showing his family.

There were two beautiful rings on his left hand and he wore a wrist-watch, although at that time wrist-watches were used almost exclusively by women. He seemed to be bright and quick, but by no means brilliant.

Perhaps the quality exhibited by him that impressed me most on that first occasion was his excessive nervousness. He trembled all over. It was plain to see he was dreadfully afraid of pain, and he evidently realized that I had noticed his condition.

"I suppose the crown prince and the future ruler of Germany ought to be brave at all times," he remarked, "but I just hate to have to go to a dentist!"

He asked me if I had seen any member of the court lately, and I told him that the Kaiser's court chamberlain, Count von Eulenburg, had been to see me the previous day.

"I'm not surprised he has to go to the dentist; he eats too much!" the crown prince declared. "He can't expect to have good teeth; he's always eating. As for myself, I eat very little. I want to remain thin. I hate fat people."

The crown prince and I did not get along very well at that time. Apart from the fact he was such a physical coward that it was almost impossible to work on him satisfactorily, he seemed to have no idea of the meaning of an appointment.

He would agree to be at my office at 9:20 and I would plan my day accordingly. At about ten he was apt to call me up to say he would be on hand at eleven, and he would actually arrive about twelve. This happened several times, and I told him that I couldn't have my work broken up in that way.

Although I did not see the crown prince again professionally until 1915, the crown princess came to me in 1913, and from that time on paid me more or less regular visits. She was a woman of great charm and intelligence, and although she was more Russian than German in her ideas, and for some time after her marriage was rather generally criticized on that account, she soon became extremely popular and today is very much admired by the German people.

She was one of the most democratic and informal of my royal patients. I remember one day when I was working on Princess Hatzfeld, we heard a loud "Hoo-hoo" from the anteroom. The crown princess had heard that the Princess Hatzfeld, who was a great chum of hers, was in my office and had followed her into my place unannounced.

The Princess Hatzfeld, I may mention, was an extremely intelligent and beautiful young woman, and because of her intimacy with the crown princess, I took a keen interest in the views she expressed from time to time. Her mother was an American.

When she called on me on one occasion after the war had started, I repeated to her the gist of a conversation I had had a few days before with her father, Excellency von Stamm. He informed me that he had been trying to convince all Germans of influence that it would be a serious mistake to annex Belgium.

"From morning to night I have been trying to teach our people some sense," he had declared. "With the history of Poland and Alsace-Lorraine in mind,

UNIONTOWN BOXER HERE FOR RED CROSS FAIR.

Terrill Duncan, colored fighter from the county seat, who is meeting at the athletic show being held in connection with the Red Cross street fair. The Uniontown boxer is donating his services to the Red Cross.

Why should we take more responsibilities on our shoulders by retaining Belgium? The Lord only knows we have our hands full as it is. I don't see and I never have seen how Germany can possibly win this war!"

"Your father seemed to be very pessimistic regarding the outlook," I told her.

"The sad thing about it," she replied, "is that father is always right! I never know him to make a mistake in judgment."

When the crown prince called to see me again I was surprised to find a considerable change in his general appearance. Although, of course, he was ten years older, he had aged more than I would have expected. There were lines on his face which made him look older than his thirty-three years.

In the other world he was generally believed to be one of the leading spirits of the military party in Germany, but among his own people he was not credited with sufficient ability or influence to be much of a factor. Indeed, within the past year he had been criticized rather severely in army circles for his indifference to the crisis in which his country was involved and for not taking the war seriously enough, and from all I was able to observe of him during the visits he paid me after the resumption of our relations, these criticisms were well founded. The newspapers, however, which were naturally inspired, always brought his name to the front whenever the army he was accredited to made any successful showing just as they did in the case of the Kaiser.

During his various visits to me I tried to draw him out a little on different aspects of the international situation, but the ideas he expressed were not of much moment.

"The allies think we will run short of man-power," he said on one occasion, "but we've got 2,000,000 youths growing up and we'll soon be able to put them in the war. There's no danger of our running short of men, but, really, I wish it were all over. This war is a lot of damned nonsense, you know!" He talked as if the two million growing-up youths of Germany were created for the Hohenzollerns to use as they pleased.

Another remark he made which indicated how badly he misconstrued the epoch-making significance of the great war in which the whole world was involved was quite characteristic.

"With so many men at the front," he said, "the men at home ought to be having a fine time with the women, eh, what? Do you see many good looking girls in Berlin now?"

In this connection I may mention that many of the more sober officers told me that they were disgusted with the manner in which the crown prince was acting at his headquarters. "It is really a disgrace," they complained, "for the crown prince to have so many questionable women visiting him. It certainly doesn't set much of an example for the rest of the staff."

The whole situation appeared to the crown prince very much in the light of a joke.

"I've just come from the western front," he told me. "My men are up to their knees in water and mud. We've been having lots of fun pumping the water out of our trenches into the French trenches."

"Well, I suppose the French pump it right back again, don't they?"

"You're quite right, quite right. That's exactly what they do. Really, it's a great lark."

Remarks of this kind rather sickened me of this self-satisfied young man. I realized, of course, that his part in the war was played at such a safe distance from the front lines that he was probably not familiar with all the horrors of trench warfare, and yet it could not be possible that he was unaware of the terrific loss of life and the untold agony and suffering which millions of his people had to endure while the "nonsensical" war continued.

After diplomatic relations were broken off between America and Germany, the crown prince and his family ceased coming to me. They were afraid, no doubt, of public criticism, although the Kaiser was not.

Of the Kaiser's other children, Prince William, Prince Frederick and Prince Oscar were the only ones I never met.

PROF. STUART FINDS RELIEF FROM CATARRH

Well-known Instructor of Mathematics in Erie High School Praises Tanlac.

Prof. R. R. Stuart, teacher of mathematics in the Erie High School, who resides at 151 E. Sixth Avenue, Erie, Pa., made the following conservative, but interesting statement regarding the benefits he received from Tanlac, the celebrated new combatant, tonic appetizer and invigorant that is now being so widely discussed and distributed in this city and vicinity.

Prof. Stuart said: "I have suffered intensely from both bronchial and nasal catarrh. I also had a severe case of indigestion which caused me equally as much annoyance and inconvenience. 'My symptoms were pains in my abdomen, a distressed feeling after eating, susceptibility to cold, inflamed bronchial tubes and nasal passages, discharge of catarrhal mucus, and an offensive breath."

"On November 29, my attention was attracted to the Tanlac advertisement in the Erie newspapers. I concluded to test the new medicine."

"Within three days' time, after beginning the use of Tanlac, I noticed a marked improvement in my condition. The inflammation has disappeared from my bronchial tubes and nasal passages, my digestion is almost perfect, and I am generally better."

"I recently fell and broke my arm. I lost much strength as a result of this accident. Tanlac has been a great aid in recovering the lost strength."

Tanlac is sold in Conneltsville exclusively by the Conneltsville Drug Co., Reighley's Pharmacy, and F. H. Harneney, where the premier preparation can be had.—Adv.

COKE PRODUCTION MADE SMALL GAIN BUT COAL SHOWED LOSS OF 2,000 TONS DURING WEEK

The Decrease in Aggregate Tonnage Was Less Than 1,200 Tons.

SITUATION ENCOURAGING

Especially When It Develops Following Pay Day and Church Holidays; Coke Inspection System in Preparation; Business Men Load Coke.

From The Weekly Courier.
The coke region last week came within 1,180 tons, aggregate tonnage, of holding fast the gain that was registered during the week ending August 24. Coke output was 338,250 tons, or 545 tons more, but the coal output was 212,000 tons, or 2,000 tons less than the preceding week. With the coke reduced to its coal equivalent the aggregate tonnage becomes 719,375, as compared with 720,555 tons during the previous week.

Although there was a comparatively slight recession in aggregate tonnage, the significant and important feature, as the coke men look at it, was that the coke output suffered no diminution. The Fuel Administration is, of course, interested in maintaining the production of both coal and coke to the maximum, but when coke volume continues to grow, even if by small increments, no complaint can be or is made, particularly when coal output keeps a close second to a previous week's record. Such a condition is encouraging especially when it develops in a week following pay day and a season of church holiday observances as was the case last week.

There has been some complaint of car shortage, not serious, but sufficient to prevent a number of plants shipping all the tonnage they were capable of producing. The Monongahela division of the Pennsylvania railroad suffered most in this respect, the supply of both coal and coke cars being below requirements. The Baltimore & Ohio had a very perceptible shortage of coal cars.

The coke inspection system, which has been inaugurated by the Fuel Administration, has not yet been placed in operation. Chief Inspector Glazier is perfecting his organization and outlining plans which will be completed shortly.

The three day visit to the coke region of Captain Giovanni del Lungo, son of a member of the Italian senate and an officer in the Italian army, served to extend the educational and patriotic campaign to an element among the workers which has not heretofore been reached by a countryman who has come directly from the battle front to coke fields. Three addresses made by Captain del Lungo attracted workmen of Italian birth or parentage in large numbers and inspired them to a high degree of enthusiasm in pushing the war program forward. Captain del Lungo, who is on a special mission to this country, devoted part of his time to meetings of the coke workers at the request of the Fuel Administration.

An event of the week, which was strikingly significant of the spirit of the business, professional men and mechanics of the coke towns, was the loading of 29 cars of stock coke by men from Conneltsville. These, to the number of 80, including miners, professional men, merchants, city employees and others, gave willing and ready response to help clear up a pile of stock that has accumulated at the Davidson plant of the H. C. Fries Coke company during the car shortage of last winter. They reported in two relays, one on Sunday the other on Monday, working with vigor and enthusiasm at the very laborious job of forming and wheeling coke. If further proof of their disinterested patriotism were needed it was supplied by the donation of their earnings to the Red Cross.

Estimated coke production last week was 338,250 tons, as compared with 337,705 tons during the preceding week. By districts the production was divided, Conneltsville, 165,290 tons; Lower Conneltsville, 169,960 tons. By interests, furnace, 138,570 tons; merchant, 149,775 tons.

THOUGHT ONE CLEAN SHIRT ALL HE NEEDED

"Ten years ago I was reduced to a mere shadow. I was yellow as a gold piece and would often be doubled up with most excruciating pains in my stomach. Physicians could only relieve me with morphine. I was advised to try Mayr's Wonderful Remedy and it helped me at once. What is more, I have been well ever since. A friend said I would ever wear." It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. One dose will convince or money refunded. A. A. Clarke and druggists everywhere. Ad.

PROMPT UNLOADING

Of Coal Insisted Upon by the Pennsylvania Railroad.

The Pennsylvania railroad has made an urgent appeal to the public for the prompt unloading of coal cars.

"If and when coal is not unloaded promptly," say the official notice, "the names of delinquent consignees will be reported to the Fuel Administration with a view to having the coal transferred to users who will promptly unload. Failure to accomplish desired results will make it necessary to place an embargo against such consignees."

COKE TRADE SUMMARY.

A gain of 545 tons in the estimated production of coke raised last week's total to 338,250 tons, but a loss of 2,000 tons in coal output caused a drop of 1,180 tons in the aggregate, after reducing the coke to its coal equivalent. This is rather encouraging, insofar as the coke gain is concerned, because last week followed pay day and some church holidays, two events that are never conducive to extra effort on part of many workers. Interrupted car supply, both of coal and coke cars on the Monongahela branch of the Pennsylvania and of coal cars on the Baltimore & Ohio, contributed somewhat to reduction in output a number of plants being unable to ship to the limit of their productive capacity.

The coke inspection system is still in the organization stage but is expected to be placed in operation very shortly. An event of the week, significant of the spirit of the business men of the coke towns, was the volunteering of 80 business and professional men and mechanics in Conneltsville to help load stock coke at Davidson plant, held there for lack of labor since the car shortage of last winter. Three men reported in two relays, Sunday and Monday, loading 29 cars, then donated their earnings to the Red Cross.

It is developing that the shortage of coke, either by-product or besblive, is not so much a limiting factor in pig iron production as the fact that many furnaces are on manganese that ought to be making pig iron.

GENERAL CROWDER PLANS TO KEEP MINERS OUT OF ARMY UNDER NEW DRAFT

Can Get In Only by Insistence Upon Their Part, Says Supreme Draft Authority, Perhaps Not Then.

Only stubborn insistence upon getting into the Army on the part of miners and men engaged in other industries essential to the actual conduct of the war will defeat the plans that have been made by Provost Marshal General Crowder to call immediately into active military service only those men who are not engaged in such industries. Just what those plans are can not be disclosed at the present time, but a representative of the National Coal Association has learned that unusual precautions will be taken to insure the mines and other war industries against the loss of men whose presence in their present occupations is of the utmost importance to the success of the nation's war program.

One of General Crowder's aides has reiterated the necessity for the closest cooperation on the part of coal operators in impressing upon the men in their employ that it is their duty to accept deferred classification when their district boards give it to them.

It will be recalled that one of the aides of General Crowder made the statement that it is as much the duty of a miner to accept a deferred classification as it is the duty of a soldier to obey the commands of his superior officer. That statement holds good today.

It is the intention of General Crowder to call first for those men between the ages of 18 and 35. From these men General Crowder estimates he will get not less than 1,500,000.

H. G. Rockwell of Chicago, purchased from W. D. Cotterrell, Robinson F. Downey, Jesse R. Scott and Mrs. Kate L. Montgomery, of Waynesburg, 172,628 acres of coal in Franklin township; consideration $60,419.00; from W. A. P. Riechart 95,543 acres of coal in Franklin township; consideration $38,372.20. Two tracts of Franklin township coal were exchanged by H. G. Rockwell of Chicago, and J. G. Patterson of Pittsburgh, each tract containing 32,6897 acres. The exchange was made to straighten lines of coal blocks owned by the parties. A deed was recorded for each tract.

CUT OF 30 CENTS

Is Made in Price of By-Product Coke Except in Alabama and Washington. A flat reduction of 30 cents a ton for coke produced in by-product ovens except in Alabama and Washington was ordered Tuesday by the Fuel Administration.

The basic price effective was fixed at $5.70 for run-of-ovens and $6.70 for selected foundry.

HIGHER WAGES

To Be Paid Railroad Trackmen and Clerks of Certain Classes.

Higher wages for railroad track laborers and for certain classes of clerks have been recommended to Director General McAdoo by the Board of Railroad Wages and Working Conditions.

The advances suggested range between 15 and 25 per cent, it is said, and would affect more than 300,000 employees.
